Dear Josh:

I wonder if you could send me the following strains: K12, Lambda-sensitive coli, and one each of your two immune types of K12 mutants?

We are studying the penetration reaction further and now wish to compare the behavior of the lysogenic and non-lysogenic strains.

There is a possibility that this summer is going to be a complicated one for us. I will write you shortly when things are more definite.

We all send warm regards to you and Esther.

Sincerely,

Theodore T. Puck, Ph. D.
